Band 1

Anhui Tianhe Law Firm

This Hebei-based firm has a solid regional presence with 35 lawyers operating across a broad spectrum of commercial matters. With domestic enterprises as its key clients, the firm has developed a strong focus on M&A and IPO-related matters, with additional capacity in real estate and commercial litigation. It acts as legal counsel for a number of Anhui-based state-owned companies, and recently advised Anhui Hengyuan Coal Industry on its IPO. Managing partner Jiang Min can be contacted for enquires.

Deheng Law Firm

With a branch office network spread across Beijing, Shanghai, Qingdao, Ji'nan, Seoul, Hong Kong, Berlin and Chicago, this large, full-service firm is regarded as "a top player in the market," and serves both domestic and international clients. It offers expertise in real estate, IP, finance, corporate, and commercial litigation and arbitration. Senior partner Hu Ming is a key contact for this practice.

Fangben Law Office

With a growing client base mainly comprised of international users, this six-partner firm is looking to relocate its headquarters from Suzhou to Shanghai. While dispute resolution and IP remain at the core of the practice, the firm has an emerging focus on

M&A matters. Recent highlights include advising Checkpoint System on the acquisition of Brilliant Label Manufacturing, as well as advising Philips on a joint venture with TPV Technology Group. Clients speak highly of this team's "highly pragmatic practitioners who are able to combine legal know-how and expertise with business acumen," and note that "the service is brilliant value for money." Winston Jin is the founding partner and main contact.

HHP Attorneys-At-Law

This 19-lawyer team has attracted a number of domestic and international clients on the basis of its "wonderful cross-border work" since its establishment in 2003. In addition to acting for sellers on M&A transactions, it is also active in areas including foreign direct investment, real estate, banking and insurance, and dispute resolution. The team recently acted for Suzhou Taizhu Technology Development on Merck KGaA's acquisition of its business. Jason Cheng is the main contact partner for this practice.

Jade & Fountain

This Shanghai-based, medium-sized firm offers a full range of services covering M&A, foreign direct investment, venture capital, capital markets and dispute resolution. Having been active for 15 years, the fast-growing 20-partner team has acquired "long-standing experience in cross-border matters." Recent work highlights include representing Shenda Games and Shenda Interactive Entertainment in their NASDAQ listing, and acting as PRC legal counsel to Array Networks on its Taiwan IPO. Sources regard it as a "growing and integrated practice with exceptional potential." Managing partner Scott Guan can be contacted for enquires.

Jiangsu FD Yongheng Law Firm

As a founding member of the Grand Compass Law Alliance, which brings together firms from Beijing, Shanghai, Tianjin, Chongqing, Jiangsu, Liaoning, Guangdong and Inner Mongolia, this decent-sized Nanjing-based team offers a full service to both domestic and international clients. The 52-strong team enjoys a particularly fine reputation in real estate and corporate, as well as civil and commercial litigation. Sources describe it as "an excellent firm full of
